Personal Effectiveness Programme for Young Adults

Increases young people's awareness of their own unique talents and attributes, helping to build confident individuals

Helps students improve their interpersonal skills and relationships in order to contribute more effectively

Aids understanding of individual Learning Preferences in order that they may become more effective learners

Encourages the awareness and respect for others necessary for becoming a responsible citizen

Insights® Personal and Learning Effectiveness is our core programme for learners in the upper secondary school and further education - an introduction to the Insights System and the Insights Discovery Personal Profile that is fun and interactive, and which leaves participants with a language and framework for understanding both themselves and others which they can put into practice immediately in any learning setting.

The programme explores a simple model:

- Understand self
- Understand others
- Learn how to adapt to others and connect more effectively for improved relationships and learning results
- Understand learning preference and exploration of approaches for maximising learning

Using each participant's Insights Discovery® Personal Profile, the programme enables everyone to understand their own personality and learning style better, to identify other types of personalities and adapt to different communication needs.

The use of our four Insights colour energies: Cool Blue, Earth Green, Sunshine Yellow, Fiery Red creates a memorable common language and framework on which participants can base their interactions in the future. The programme also focuses on the learning setting, enabling students to develop approaches that can facilitate more effective individual learning and more productive relationships.

Insights Into Personal and Learning Effectiveness Programmes are tailored to customer requirements. The programme can also be tailored for specific use with individuals, groups, and even entire year groups.
